

AT A GLANCE

The HANNOVER MESSE is one of the biggest international platforms for industrial and technological competence in the world. 6150 exhibitors from 61 nations and more than 210.000 visitors in 2009 give proof of its ranking.

The brokerage event, organised by b2fair, the Enterprise Europe Network and Deutsche Messe AG, offers companies from different industry sectors the opportunity to meet business cooperation partners via pre-arranged face-to-face meetings. The scale of the fair and the brokerage event enables companies from all represented sectors to take part. Besides, this year a special focus will be put on new economic topics favoring new sectors, such as energy and electric mobility.

The Technology Cooperation Days are organised within the framework of the b2fair Matchmaking Event and focus on the first steps to entrepreneurial innovation - partnerships for research & development and technical cooperation agreements.
